Case Synopsis:

On March 30, 2016 at about 10:00 o'clock, Trooper Heuertz was running radar on Interstate 29 at about mile marker 34 when he observed a vehicle traveling 85 mph in an 80 mph zone. Prior to stopping the vehicle, he observed the driver cross the fog line and drive on the right shoulder of the road. The Trooper stopped and approached the vehicle which now had both front windows rolled all the way down. The driver had just lit a cigarette and the passenger was messing with her phone in which her hands were visibly shaking. The driver of the vehicle was identified as Charles Pollard. Pollard was asked for consent to search the vehicle which he granted. Prior to searching, the Trooper approached the passenger, an Amber Jacobson, who admitted that she had a small amount of marijuana in her possession. Jacobson then handed the Trooper her marijuana and her paraphernalia (pipe). A search of the vehicle and its contents revealed the following: a marijuana pipe; a marijuana grinder; a meth pipe; a bottle with marijuana residue; a glass jar with marijuana residue; a metal container with marijuana residue; four plastic baggies with small amounts of methamphetamine; and prescription medication that was not prescribed to anyone in the vehicle. The prescription medication was determined to be Methylphenidate. The fourth bag of methamphetamine contained .13 grams of methamphetamine with the other three bags containing residue amounts of methamphetamine.

Jacobson admitted that her urine would come back positive for the prescription pills and the marijuana. Charles Pollard admitted to the knowing possession of the methamphetamine. Both were arrested for the possession of the methamphetamine and the items that they admitted to. Charles Pollard provided a urine sample for testing. That sample tested positive for marijuana at 1355 ng/ml, and methamphetamine at 15,867 ng/ml. Amber Jacobson provided a urine sample for testing. That sample tested positive for marijuana at 768 ng/ml, and methamphetamine at 4,666 ng/ml.
