Original Case Synopsis:

On or about August 14, 2014, Dylan Evanoski was the subject of an on-going investigation in which he was being followed by an agent of the Division of Criminal Investigation due to the reported and regular criminal activities Evanoski was participating in the Union County / Clay County area. Evanoski was reported to be doctor-shopping for pain medications and selling the pills he obtained through his actions. Evanoski is a revoked driver from the Des Moines, IA area and found to be driving a Chevy Malibu with plates that were registered to a Mazda. When confronted by law enforcement, Evanoski admitted that he was selling his prescription pills and that the pill counts in his possession would be off due to him having sold some of his pill in both Union and Clay County. DCI agents also found a small amount of black-tar Heroin inside one of the pill bottles.

Original Sentencing Synopsis:

On the class 5 felony charge of possession of a controlled substance, Dylan Evanoski admitted to offense on September 15, 2014. During the sentencing hearing phase of this file, the Court granted Dylan Evanoski a suspended imposition of sentence. Under this legal process, if Dylan Evanoski satisfies the terms and conditions of supervised probation the court will seal Dylan Evanoski's criminal file on this charge. Dylan Evanoski was also ordered to pay his court costs, prosecution costs, and repay Union County for providing him a court-appointed attorney. Dylan Evanoski was further ordered to pay all of his financial obligations as part of the terms of his supervised probation requirements.

Probation Violation Synopsis:

Dylan Evanoski tested positive for methamphetamine, cocaine, THC, and opiates on January 20, 2015. Evanoski was placed on a required testing protocol of which Evanoski failed to ever report for testing. Evanoski was ordered to complete treatment following an evaluation, however, Evanoski has not started treatment as ordered. Furthermore, Evanoski failed to make any payments on his court ordered monetary obligations.

Probation Violation Disposition Synopsis:

The court resentenced Evanoski following his admission to three probation violations on the original and underlying class 5 felony charge of possession of a controlled substance. The court decided to revoke Evanoski's original suspended imposition of sentence. Then the court sentenced Evanoski to a suspended sentence to the South Dakota penitentiary for a term of five years with a term of supervised probation for a term of three years. Evanoski was reordered to follow the court's orders, terms, and conditions. Evanoski was reordered to pay all the court ordered obligations. The court further ordered that Evanoski serve fourteen days in the Union County Jail with credit for the eight days he spent incarcerated prior to this disposition.

Evanoski was represented by retained counsel throughout this probation violation process.
